

MU SEA UM

AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL MARITIME MUSEUM

*through a different lens Cazneaux
by the water*

Sydney Harbour scenes: boy on a raft by Harold Cazneaux, 1905. Australian National Maritime Museum Collection.
Donated through the Australian Government's Cultural Gifts Program by Anne Christoffersen, in memory of the artist (detail).

As time marches on there will always be a 'Sydney of yesterday'. Harold Cazneaux, 1948

Exhibition for Hire

Harold Cazneaux (1878-1953), was a giant in the history of Australian photography. Through a difference lens takes visitors back in time to Cazneaux's soft focus Australia and gives us an insight into this significant photographer's life.

For more than 50 years Cazneaux's camera captured the romance and life of the world as it changed around him. Water was the perfect medium for his experimentations with creating mood, atmosphere and impression on the picture plane.

This exhibition of more than 50 original pieces presents this aspect of Cazneaux's art, reflecting how the water and Sydney Harbour fits within his work, his signature pictorial photographic style and his foray into modernism and abstract form.

Exhibition content

- 30-40 original photographs (framed in fini-frames)
- Interpretative labels
- Introductory panel
- Marketing supporting material

Audience

- Photography enthusiasts
- Art enthusiasts
- Australian history enthusiasts
- Adults

Display period

3 months minimum

Size

50-80 running wall space

Arch in the Sky by Harold Cazneaux, 1930.
Australian National Maritime Museum Collection.

Supporting materials

- Introductory panels
- Media release
- Marketing material

Visitation

- Australian National Maritime Museum, 20,000
- South Australian Maritime Museum, Adelaide, 17,124

Previously exhibited

- Australian National Maritime Museum, Sydney Australia
- South Australian Maritime Museum, Adelaide

Contact

touringexhibitions@sea.museum +61 2 9298 3777
sea.museum/touringexhibitions

Produced by

MU SEA
UM | AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL
MARITIME MUSEUM